Forecast for Wednesday 25 Jan 2023

Weather: A band of low cloud and rain, with some heavy bursts at first, will clear to the southeast during the early hours of Wednesday. This will leave much clearer conditions behind with scattered showers. These showers will fall as snow above 800m from around early to mid-morning onwards. Showers easing into the evening.

Chance of cloud-free hill tops above 800m: Very low during the early hours but good outside of showers later, chances improving through the day as showers ease.

Low cloud and visibility: Poor at first in rain band but otherwise good, moderate or poor in showers.
